Hi my name is Wilson, I am looking for a special home where my new owner will be consistent with my training. There will need to be no children or dogs in my new house as I like to push boundaries with people, so will have to help me realise I cannot do this.

My Canine carers have been working with me while I have been in the home and I am improving every day but now I think I am ready for the next step on my journey. I am grateful for all their help and I know they will advise my new family how to continue with my training.

I do need to go to a home that has had experience in dogs with behavioural problems and understand the things I will need.

Lots of licks

Wilson
