Dane takes time to trust people but once he does he has so much love to give and will soon become your best friend. His favourite thing is getting lots of cuddles and fuss, and he is sure to make you laugh when he runs around the paddocks throwing his toys around.

He also enjoys walking with his doggy friends. For this reason we have said he could possibly live with a confident female only.

Despite being a smaller great Dane cross he will still need an owner with experience of larger dogs as he can be reactive to new people and other dogs he can sometimes lunge and bark on the lead.

He has also previously guarded female staff members so will need some further positive training to discourage this he will need multiple meets at the centre so you can see his true personality before going home.
