Bungle is a strong, playful boy, who has plenty of energy to burn, so he will need to go to an experienced and active home.

He will need his new owners to be prepared to do some work with him as he needs basic training, teaching some doggy manners (as he does jump up you with quite some force) and also training around food (as he is food possessive).

Bungle enjoys his playtimes and can get over-excited if he is played with in a rough manner, so this will need to be avoided and he needs to be encouraged to play more gently.

A real big sweetie, with loads of potential, Bungle will make an excellent project for anyone with experience in training big, boisterous, bundles of fun.

If you think you could be the one for Bungle, please give our Wolverhampton Centre a ring.
