Milo is Looking for a very particular home with lots of terrier experience as he can be reactive, for this reason he is muzzle trained which he needs to wear in situations that make him uncomfortable for example the vets he will need to have a bond with you before putting his muzzle on.

This clever boy does know lots of his basic commands however he can get over excited and jump up people so he will need some training with his manners and proper socialisation he is also not keen on other dogs and will growl if they get too close.

Milo will need multiple meets at the centre so he can build trust with you and needs a quiet home with someone with patience who is willing to put in the time that he needs.
